le are gratified at finding, that MAXCY's Report to the Senate of yland, on the appropriation of of the public lands of the ted States, to the purposes of ation, has attracted attention, found defenders in other States. a subject of deep interest to he elder members of the conracy. The plan recommended onsonant to the plainest princiof justice, and must, if carried effect, be so obviously attendwith the most salutary conseices, that it obtained the almost imous assent of our Legislature. out distinction of party. W. embrace the earliest opportuof presenting the Report to our ers. In the mean time, for the ose of showing the opinion h is entertained of it by intelt men in our sister states. we the following article from the onal Gazette.

The opinion of the Committee tares against a co-operation in claim advised by the Maryland islature, and is attempted to be ntained by arious consideration of expediently. We can discomo real force and very little hibility in their reasoning. The commission appointed under the Florida Treaty have an un toubted right to adminis ter or distribute the fund of five millions, intended for the common benefit of the American creditors of the Spanish government, those who exhibit and explain their right to e rateable share, cannot be deemed guilty of an improper interference.

The other leading suggestions of the Committee appear to us susceptible or direct retutation; but were we to comment upon them here, we should be carried further than is compatible with our present convemence in regard to space. At the proper season, we shall republish the whole of the Maryland Report, with such collateral remarks as we think desirable for the purpose of making the fallacy of the objections now urged, sensible to every reader. The subject is of great importance to the states to whom the appeal is made.

Towards the conclusion of the New York Report, recourse is had to the topic of the danger of geo. graphical distinctions and jealousics &c. so frequently used, during the agitation or the Missouri question, to beguile or alarm the majority of the states or their representatives into submission to the minority We are sorry to see this expedient of rhetoric employed on this occasion, and premet that it will fail an-The Legislature of M . togeth, r ry and cannot be suspected of a disposition to foster t e interests and . ws agains, which the aumonition of Washington is directed—they were arrayed agains: the restrictionists; and we have nev r heard that they have man fested the least predilectio, for Gover or Clinton, It would be difficult to divine what right it is that should not be re inqu shed, what exclusive benent should not be concluded by the Atlantic states, under the doctr ne anplied to this case by the New York Committee. "Make yourselves sneep and the wolves will eat you," says the proverb so often quoted by Franklin. The Maryland Legislature seem to think there are limits t . the sound principle of conciliation; and that an extensive good, demandable upon the strongest and clearest grounds of equity, accruing by an obviously just interpretation take to predict but unless it of the scheme of Federal Union, ore vigorously and kilifully is not to be renounced from the base is not to be renounced from the bare apprehension of unseasonable discontent in any quarter. THE MURDERERS.

We perceive (says the editor of the Telegraph) by the last Norfolk Herald, that the trials of both the murnerers of Lagouardette are concluded, and that the verdict in both cases is "Guilty of Murder in the first degree." We copy the article ntire from the above paper, the remarks of whose editor are extremely appropriate, and bespeak a feeling, heart. We would add, that all the corcumstance attending this horrid affair, furnish us with another proof of the overruling providence of God, and of the correlations. dence of God, and of the certain punishment which awaits the murderer. This Lagouardette is said to have been the leader of a band of robbers in the Pyrenees. He and his murderers have no doubt been long accustomed to robbery and pillage in foreign countries, and (45 is unfortunately too often the ase,) escaped the punishment which their crimes merited, and finally landed on our peaceful shores Aith a view to begin business on a large and magnificent scal a. They nad formed a regular plan of plunder, and have carried it on successfully until their measures were filled and an overruling power offsing this for shelt they go and no ed thus far shalt thou go and no arther-their doom was fixed-was inevitable. They disputed about their ill-gotten booty, and unable to control that diabolical spirit of ruing two of the robbers become the executioners of the third, and commit that atrocious deed in a manner eraly shocking-they concert plans for their escape already have they commenced their foute, when justice, sacred justice extends hesnowy arm, arrests their progress, and leads them to cold and dreary dungeons-in a few days they are brought to trial, are supposed innocent until the law pronounced these chilling words, ... "Guilty of Murder in the first degre "-they are remanded back to prison, and when they come forth again it will be to mount the scaffold.

fltf is a remarkable fact, and it gught to be a warning to criminals, that in this blessed land of ours a villain is apprehended and brought to punishment almost always before he can possibly enjoy any of the objects for which he commits the crime. The citizens at large are on the alert to apprehend him, and they generally succeed. By this conduct they prove their desire to enforce the land, and in aiding the cante of justice prove themselves worthy citizens.

Extract of a letter from Liverpool. received per the James Monroe. "It affords us much pleasure to inform you, that arrangements are nearly completed for the Hudson Bay and North Wen Companies being united under the general name of the Hudson Bay Company. This event will, in the highest de gree be gratifying to all who feel interested in the welfare and happiness of the Canadas."

[As the above involves the intest of the great capitalists of the Canadas, it is not amiss for the editors to say, that it comes from an authentic source.]-N. Y. Gazette.

The London Statesman of the 27th Feb. savs, that private letters from Paris state that the French troops evince the most anxious desire to unite with the Neapolitans in opposing the aggressions of the Austri as Their movements with that view have been so open and aarming as to occasion much excitement n the Chamber of Zeputies. The last debates in that assembly are stated to have been very stormy, and of so serious a character that the Ke per of the Scals is understood to have prevented, though not without much difficulty, the reporr of their proceedings from reaching the public eye.

ALI PACHA. Extract of a letter from Corfu dated J.n. 1. The Sulintes have drawn their swords against the Sultan and in favour of Ali Pacha, and have procured from the surrounding villages a corps of 5,000 men to support They beset the road from St. Demetrio (a place about three leagues from Janina) to Arts, and have captured a convoy of 200 mules, loaded with provisions and ammunition which was coming from Prevesa, and proceeding to the Turkish army and encamped before : Janina. The escort who attended the convov were put to the sword. All Pacha and sent one of his nephew, who was in the fortress with him together with two other distinguished per sons, as hostages to the Suliotes, & they in return had delivered up to him eight of their principal chiefs. It is suspected that the other chiefs of the Greeks were on understanding with Ali Pacha. It is said likewise that' 8,000 of the inhabitants of the province of Tapleni where Ali was born, have declared for his cause, as it is known that 6 weeks ago they threw off their allegiance to the Porce. These his allies have blocked up the road to Mizzovo. Should these facts be confirmed, it would appear that the Turkish forces which beiege Janina will be cut off-from all provisions. In this case the change of fortune will be truly astonishing; for Ali would thus be rescued from destruction & raised from his state of insignifieance, by the exertions of his early enemies. It is probate that the latter promise themselves, some advantage from the genius and riches of Ali; and calculate that, by placing him at their head, they will possess a chief from whom they need be under no apprehensions of a new alliance with the Porte.

SCULLCAP.

This valuable plant is acquiring considerable celebrity, and is now used in several diseases with effect. An instance has come to my knowledge in which it has a red a violent Inflammatory Rheumaning.
Sometime ago a Mr. Hunt, a respectable mechanic in this : ity, told ne that for 12 years he had been a martyre the inflammatory rheumatism, which attacked him so violeadly and frequently that he lost upon an average, six months labour of the 12. That about 18 months ago he was in great pain, having his arms and legs cased with flannel, & resting on piliows; having been bled, blistered and physicked without any diminution of pain or symptoms. At this period, he says, Mr. Lewis of Winchester county, I believe he who for many years has prescribed the scullcap, paid him a visit, and told him he would cure him in ten lays. He ordered him to drink pen tifully of the scullcap tea, strong. for that time, to take a dose of sulphur every third day, to live low and eat no salt. Mr. Hunt says he pursued his orders strictly, and for 8 days he did not perceive any visible alteration, but on the 9th or 10th it appeared to him that he slood underwent a complete change he describes the sensation as if new blood untirely coursed through the veins and channels of the body; he threw off his flannel, went to work, and has not been since afflicted .-Whenever by any pain he has reason to fear an artack, he drinks plentifully of the tea and the pain vanishes.

Such is the story told to me, and he is a plain and honest may and as d understand, a cabinet-maker, living near Greenwich. There cerrainly, must be valuable qualities of this plant, which physicians should develope by continued experiment. If it has this effect upon the blood in cases of inflammatory rheumatism it may cure the gout and chronic diseases generally. It is certain that N. Y. Nat. Advocate.
